Section 1112. A. Except as otherwise provided, a child who is charged with having violated any state statute or municipal ordinance ~~other than those enumerated in Section 1104.2 of this title,~~ shall not be tried in a criminal action but in a juvenile proceeding. If, during the pendency of a criminal or quasi-criminal charge against any person, it shall be ascertained that the person was a child at the time of committing the alleged offense, the district court or municipal court shall transfer the case, together with all the papers, documents and testimony connected therewith, to the juvenile division of the district court. The division making such transfer shall order the child to be taken forthwith to the place of detention designated by the juvenile division, to that division itself, or release such child to the custody of some suitable person to be brought before the juvenile division. However, nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the exercise of concurrent jurisdiction by another division of the district court or by municipal courts in cases involving children wherein the child is charged with the violation of a state or municipal traffic law or ordinance.

B. Except as otherwise provided by law, if a child is charged with delinquency as a result of ~~an offense which would be a felony if committed by an adult~~ a capital offense, or, if fourteen (14) or fifteen (15) years of age, a major felony, or, if sixteen (16) or seventeen (17) years of age, a felony, the court on its own motion or at the request of the district attorney shall conduct a preliminary hearing to determine whether or not there is prosecutive merit to the complaint. If the court finds that prosecutive merit exists, it shall continue the hearing for a sufficient period of time to conduct an investigation and further hearing to determine the prospects for reasonable rehabilitation of the child if he should be found to have committed the alleged act or omission.

Consideration shall be given to:

1. The seriousness of the alleged offense to the community, and whether the alleged offense was committed in an aggressive, violent, premeditated or willful manner;

2. Whether the offense was against persons or property, greater weight being given to offenses against persons especially if personal injury resulted;

3. The sophistication and maturity of the juvenile and his capability of distinguishing right from wrong as determined by consideration of his psychological evaluation, home, environmental situation, emotional attitude and pattern of living;

4. The record and previous history of the juvenile, including previous contacts with community agencies, law enforcement agencies, schools, juvenile courts and other jurisdictions, prior periods of probation or prior commitments to juvenile institutions;

5. The prospects for adequate protection of the public and the likelihood of reasonable rehabilitation of the juvenile if he is found to have committed the alleged offense, by the use of procedures and facilities currently available to the juvenile court; and

6. Whether the offense occurred while the juvenile was escaping or in an escape status from an institution for delinquent children.

After such investigation and hearing, the court may in its discretion proceed with the juvenile proceeding, or it shall state its reasons in writing and shall certify that such child shall be held accountable for his acts as if he were an adult, if charged with a capital offense, or as a youthful offender in all other cases, and shall be held for proper criminal proceedings for the specific offense charged, by any other division of the court which would have trial jurisdiction of such offense if committed by an adult. The court shall exercise its discretion in this matter and its decision shall not be disturbed on appeal unless it is clearly shown to be an abuse of such discretion. The juvenile proceeding shall not be dismissed until the criminal proceeding has commenced and if no criminal proceeding commences within thirty (30) days of the date of such certification, unless stayed pending appeal, the court shall proceed with the juvenile proceeding and the certification shall lapse.

If not included in the original summons, notice of a hearing to consider whether a child should be certified for trial as an adult or youthful offender shall be given to all persons who are required to be served with a summons at the commencement of a juvenile proceeding, but publication in a newspaper when the address of a person is unknown is not required. The purpose of the hearing shall be clearly stated in the notice.

C. Prior to the entry of any order of adjudication, any child in custody shall have the same right to be released upon bail as would an adult under the same circumstances. Subsequent to the entry of an order that a child stand trial as an adult or youthful offender, said child shall have all the statutory and constitutional rights and protections of an adult accused of a crime but shall, while awaiting trial and for the duration of the trial, be detained in a jail cell or ward entirely separate from prisoners who are eighteen (18) years of age or over. Upon conviction, the juvenile may be incarcerated with the adult population. If, prior to the entry of any order of adjudication, the child becomes eighteen (18) years of age, the child may be detained in a county jail or released on bail. If a child is certified to stand trial as an adult or youthful offender, the court shall make every effort to avoid duplication of the adult or youthful offender preliminary hearing and the prosecutorial hearing in the juvenile certification process. The parties may jointly stipulate to the court that the record for the prosecutorial merit hearing in the juvenile proceeding be used for all or part of the preliminary hearing.

D. Any child who has been certified to stand trial ~~as an adult~~ pursuant to any certification procedure provided by law and is subsequently convicted of the alleged offense or against whom the imposition of judgment and sentencing has been deferred or delayed shall be tried as an adult in all subsequent criminal prosecutions, and shall not be subject to the jurisdiction of the juvenile court in any further proceedings.

~~E. An order either certifying a person as a child pursuant to subsection B of this section or denying such certification shall be a final order, appealable when entered.~~

SECTION 3. AMENDATORY 10 O.S. 1991, Section 1123, is amended to read as follows:

Section 1123. A. Any interested party aggrieved by any order or decree may appeal to the Supreme Court in the same manner as other appeals are taken to the Supreme Court of this state; ~~provided, however, that appeals.~~ Appeals taken from a trial court's decision in a proceeding for an adjudication of juvenile delinquency or in a proceeding certifying a juvenile to stand trial as an adult or youthful offender or denying such certification shall be taken to the Court of Criminal Appeals in the same manner as other appeals are taken to the Court of Criminal Appeals of this state, ~~and provided further that an.~~ An order either certifying a juvenile to stand trial as an adult or as a youthful offender or denying such certification shall be a final order, appealable when entered.

B. The record on appeal of an order of adjudication or of an order certifying or denying certification of a juvenile to stand trial as an adult or as a youthful offender shall be completed and the appeal perfected within sixty (60) days after the date of the order.

C. The pendency of an appeal ~~thus taken~~ as provided for in this section shall not suspend the order of the district court regarding a child, nor shall it discharge the child from the custody of that court or of the person, institution or agency to whose care such child has been committed, unless the Supreme Court or the Court of Criminal Appeals shall so order. The pendency of an appeal from an order of adjudication shall not prevent the district court from holding a dispositional hearing unless the appellate court shall so order. The pendency of an appeal from an order certifying a juvenile to stand trial as an adult or as a youthful offender shall not prevent the commencement of criminal proceedings against the juvenile unless stayed by the judge who issued the order of certification or by the appellate court. If the Supreme Court or the Court of Criminal Appeals does not dismiss the proceedings and discharge the child, it shall affirm or modify the order of the district court and remand the child to the jurisdiction of that court for supervision and care; ~~and thereafter.~~ Thereafter, the child shall be and remain under the jurisdiction of the district court in the same manner as if such court had made such order without an appeal having been taken.

SECTION 4. NEW LAW A new section of law to be codified in the Oklahoma Statutes as Section 1700 of Title 10, unless there is created a duplication in numbering, reads as follows:

For the purposes of the Youthful Offender Act, "youthful offender" means a person sixteen (16) or seventeen (17) years of age who is charged with a major felony or any person certified as a youthful offender pursuant to Section 1112 of this title. It is the purpose of this act to better ensure the public safety by holding youths accountable for the commission of serious crimes, while affording courts methods of rehabilitation for those youths the courts determine, at their discretion, may be amenable to such methods. It is the further purpose of this act to allow those youthful offenders whom the courts find to be amenable to rehabilitation by the methods prescribed in the Youthful Offender Act to voluntarily commit themselves to rehabilitative programs and thereby, upon good conduct and successful completion of such programs, avoid conviction for a crime.

SECTION 6. NEW LAW A new section of law to be codified in the Oklahoma Statutes as Section 1702 of Title 10, unless there is created a duplication in numbering, reads as follows:

A. When a person is alleged to be or found to be a youthful offender, all proceedings shall be as for a criminal action and the provisions of Title 22 of the Oklahoma Statutes shall apply, except as provided for in the Youthful Offender Act. C. Upon a verdict of guilty or a plea of guilty or nolo contendere of a youthful offender, the court may, without entering a judgment of guilty and with the consent of the youthful offender and the youthful offender's parent, legal guardian or guardian ad litem, defer further proceedings and order the offender placed in the custody of, or under the supervision of, a juvenile agency if the youthful offender is less than eighteen (18) years of age. Conduct a review hearing within the thirty (30) days immediately preceding the date the youthful offender becomes eighteen (18) years of age and, if still under the supervision of a juvenile agency, within the thirty (30) days immediately proceeding the date the youthful offender becomes nineteen (19) years of age; and

3. Conduct a review hearing upon the motion of the district attorney or a juvenile agency with custody of a youthful offender.

The court may schedule semiannual review for hearing in open court, after notice, at its discretion and may schedule such other hearings, after notice, as the court deems necessary.

B. At the conclusion of any review hearing in open court and after consideration of all reports and other evidence properly submitted to the court, the court may:

Order the youthful offender discharged without a court judgment of guilt, and order the verdict or plea of guilty or plea of nolo contendere expunged from the record as provided in paragraphs 1 through 5 of subsection C of Section 991c of Title 22 of the Oklahoma Statutes and dismiss the charge with prejudice to any further action if the court finds that the youthful offender has been rehabilitated and that such dismissal will not jeopardize public safety; or

3. Enter a judgment of guilt and proceed as provided in Section 991a of Title 22 of the Oklahoma Statutes if the court finds that the youthful offender has:

- a. injured or endangered the life or health of another person by his violent behavior,
- b. escaped or attempted to escape from an institution or other facility on more than one occasion,

The Department of Human Services may not confine a youthful offender in a state institution after the youthful offender reaches eighteen (18) years of age, but is hereby authorized to provide supervision to youthful offenders until such time said youthful offender reaches nineteen (19) years of age. The Department is further authorized to retain said youthful offenders in a community-based facility until the youth becomes nineteen (19) years of age.

C. Any department, institution or agency receiving custody of a youthful offender shall be responsible for the care and control of the youthful offender, and shall have the duty and the authority to provide food, clothing, shelter, ordinary medical care, education, discipline and in an emergency to authorize surgery or other extraordinary care. Said medical care, surgery and extraordinary care shall be charged to the appropriate agency where the youthful offender qualifies for said care under law, rule or administrative order or decision. Nothing in this section shall abrogate the right of a youthful offender to any benefits provided through public funds nor the parent's statutory duty or responsibility to provide said necessities; further, no person, agency or institution shall be liable in a civil suit for damages for authorizing or not authorizing surgery or extraordinary care in an emergency, as determined by competent medical authority.

Upon the motion of a person who has been convicted and sentenced as a youthful offender, with the recommendation of the sentencing court, the Governor may grant a full and complete pardon and restore citizenship to any person who has been convicted and sentenced as a youthful offender and who has completed the sentence or been discharged from parole.

B. Upon the motion of a person convicted as a youthful offender, and five (5) years after the expiration of the sentence of the youthful offender, the court may set aside the conviction if:

2. The person was discharged from supervision by the Department of Human Services or a juvenile bureau, or was granted early discharge from such supervision by the court; or

3. The person has completed the sentence imposed as a result of his first conviction as a youthful offender and has no subsequent convictions.

If a conviction is set aside pursuant to this subsection, the person shall thereafter be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offense for which he was convicted, including but not limited to, any disqualification for any employment or occupational license, or both, created by any other provision of law. The court may in addition order any law enforcement agency or district attorney to produce all files and records pertaining to said arrest and conviction of the youthful offender and shall order the clerk of the court to destroy or obliterate the entire file and record of the case, including docket sheets, index entries, court records, summons, warrants or records in the office of the clerk or which have been produced by a law enforcement agency or district attorney in which the name of the youthful offender is mentioned. The court may order probation officers and counselors to destroy all records, reports, and social and clinical studies relating to said youthful offender that are in their possession except when said documents are necessary to maintain state or federal funding.
