and a person requiring treatment, the district court shall determine whether there is probable cause to detain the person who is the subject of the petition prior to a hearing on the petition.

1. If the court issues an order for detention, it shall immediately set a date, time, and place for a hearing on the petition.

2. The period of prehearing detention shall not exceed seventy-two (72) hours, excluding weekdays and holidays. Prehearing detention may be extended to coincide with any order of continuance entered by the court.

B. C. If the court finds that probable cause to detain the person alleged to be a mentally ill person requiring treatment does exist:

1. An order may be entered authorizing any peace officer to take that person into custody and to detain such person in a suitable facility prior to the hearing on the petition; or

B. The report of the licensed mental health professionals conducting an evaluation pursuant to this section shall include written findings as to whether:

1. The person being evaluated appears to have a demonstrable mental illness and as a result of that mental illness can be expected within the near future to inflict or attempt to inflict serious bodily harm to self or another person if mental health treatment services are not provided, and has engaged in one or more recent overt acts or has made significant recent threats which reasonably support that expectation, and is reasonably likely to benefit from mental health treatment; and

2. Based on the following, inpatient treatment is the least restrictive alternative that meets the needs of the person:

- a. reasonable efforts have been made to provide for the mental health treatment needs of the person through the provision of less restrictive alternatives and the alternatives have failed to meet the treatment needs of the person, or
- b. after a thorough consideration of less restrictive alternatives to inpatient treatment, the condition of the person is such that less restrictive alternatives are unlikely to meet the treatment needs of the person.

C. The certificate of evaluation shall be substantially in the following form and signed by two licensed mental health professionals who have participated in the evaluation of the person. At least one of the licensed mental health professionals shall be a psychiatrist who is a diplomate of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, a licensed clinical psychologist, or a licensed Doctor of Medicine or Doctor of Osteopathy who has received specific training for and is experienced in performing mental health therapeutic, diagnostic, or counseling functions:

A. Upon receiving a petition alleging a person to be a mentally ill person and a person requiring treatment, the court shall set a day and time for the hearing.

1. If the person alleged to be a mentally ill person requiring treatment does not have an attorney, the court shall immediately appoint an attorney for the person.

2. If a copy of a certificate of evaluation is not attached to the petition at the time it is filed, the court shall immediately order an evaluation of the person as provided by Section 8 of this act.

C. The court, at the hearing on the petition, shall determine by clear and convincing evidence whether the person is a mentally ill person and a person requiring treatment.

1. The court shall take evidence and make findings of fact concerning the person's competency to consent to or refuse the treatment that may be ordered, including, but not limited to, the patient's right to refuse medication.

2. If a jury trial is not demanded, the court may receive as evidence and act upon the affidavits of the licensed mental health professionals who evaluated the person and the certificate of evaluation.

3. When the hearing is conducted as a jury trial, the petitioner and any witness in behalf of the petitioner shall be subject to cross-examination by the attorney for the person alleged to be a person requiring treatment. The person alleged to be a mentally ill person requiring treatment may also be called as a witness and cross-examined.

D. When, after the hearing, the court determines that the person is not a mentally ill person requiring treatment, the court shall dismiss the petition and, if the person is being detained, order the person to be discharged from detention.

E. When, after the hearing, the court determines the person to be a mentally ill person requiring treatment, the court shall order the person to receive the least restrictive treatment consistent with the treatment needs of the person and the safety of the person and others.

1. The court shall not order hospitalization without a thorough consideration of available treatment alternatives to hospitalization and may direct the submission of evidence as to the least restrictive treatment alternative or may order a precommitment screening examination as provided by Section 5-403 of this title.

2. If the court finds that a program other than hospitalization is appropriate to meet the individual's treatment needs and is sufficient to prevent injury to the individual or to others, the court may order the individual to receive whatever treatment other than hospitalization that is appropriate for a period of ninety (90) days, during which time the court shall continue its jurisdiction over the individual as a mentally ill person requiring treatment.

3. If the court orders the person to be committed for involuntary inpatient treatment, the court shall commit the person to the custody of the Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services for a placement that is suitable to the person's needs or to a private facility willing to accept the person for treatment. The person shall be discharged from inpatient treatment at such time as the person no longer requires treatment as determined by the administrator of the facility or the designee of the administrator, or as otherwise required by law.

4. The person shall be delivered to the custody of the Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services for a placement that is suitable to the person's needs or to a private facility willing to accept the person for treatment.

5. If the person is placed in the custody of the Department, the Department may designate two or more facilities to provide treatment and if the person to be treated or a parent, spouse, guardian, brother, sister or child, who is at least eighteen (18) years of age, of the person, expresses a preference for one such facility, the Department shall attempt, if administratively possible, to comply with the preference.

F. The court shall make and keep records of all cases brought before it.

1. No records of proceedings pursuant to this section shall be open to public inspection except by order of the court or to employees of the Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services, the person's attorney of record, or persons having a legitimate treatment interest.

2. Bonded abstractors may be deemed to be persons having a legitimate interest for the purpose of having access to records regarding determinations of persons requiring treatment under this section.

SECTION 10. AMENDATORY 43A O.S. 1991, Section 5-407, is amended to read as follows:

Section 5-407. A. The Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services shall adopt rules, regulations and procedures to ensure that persons involuntarily ~~detained~~ committed for treatment by a court receive review of their involuntary status at least once every ~~twelve (12)~~ three (3) months, and the Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse Services shall take appropriate action based upon this review.

B. Any person receiving involuntary inpatient treatment, or such person's attorney, may at any time file a written request that the treatment order be reviewed by the committing court, or a court in the county where the person is located. If a review is requested, the court shall hear the matter within thirty (30) days after the request, and the court shall give notice to the person and such person's attorney and the person in charge of the facility of the time and place of the hearing. The hearing shall be to determine if the person can be treated on a less restrictive basis. At the conclusion of the hearing, the court may confirm the order of treatment, modify the order of treatment, discharge the respondent, or enter any appropriate order.
