

An Act relating to insurance; prohibiting insurers that issue motor vehicle policies from denying recovery by family members of insured parties; defining term; limiting application to policies issued or renewed on or after certain date; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.