

An Act relating to the Governmental Tort Claims Act; providing that the state and political subdivisions of the state are immune from liability for losses caused by certain failure or malfunction of computer software or computer devices; providing that no cause of action may be brought against the state, political subdivisions, officers and employees, and immune contractors for certain failure or malfunction of computer software or computer devices; requiring certain provision in contracts; providing that contracts will be construed in certain manner; providing for codification; and declaring an emergency.