

An Act relating to health; creating the Medical Information Protection Act; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.