

An Act relating to revenue and taxation; allowing a tax credit to employers providing certain health insurance benefits; defining terms; stating amount of credit; allowing for carry over of credit; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.