

An Act relating to telephone service; directing the Corporation Commission to prohibit certain practices called slamming and cramming; prohibiting the use of contest entry forms for written approval; providing for codification; providing an effective date; and declaring an emergency.