

An Act relating to oil and gas; providing for notice to certain persons relating to an application for approval of an increased density well in a drilling and spacing unit; requiring additional notice when application applies to certain common sources of supply; requiring additional notice when the applicant is a certain operator; requiring notice to be given by regular mail by certain time; limiting notice requirement; directing the Commission to require notice by publication; providing for type of publication; providing for codification; and declaring an emergency.