

An Act relating to human services; allowing the Department of Human Services to implement a program to provide services to specified clients at certain resource centers and to reinvest certain money into programs and services to clients with developmental disabilities; specifying services that may be included; stating conditions under which such services shall be provided; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.