

An Act relating to telecommunications; making it unlawful to transmit electronic mail messages with a third party, a false or with no internet domain name; making it unlawful to transmit electronic mail messages containing certain misleading or false information; providing for a civil remedy; making the unlawful activity a violation of the Oklahoma Consumer Protection Act; providing a definition; providing for codification; providing an effective date; and declaring an emergency.