

A Resolution condemning studies that suggest sexual relations between children and adults might be positive; urging the federal government to take similar action; encouraging competent investigations and research; and directing distribution.