

Technology; requiring state agencies to perform third-party audits of computer systems converted for the millennium; emergency.