

An Act relating to labor; authorizing administrative fines for violations of certain statutory provisions on two or more occasions within any six-month period; specifying term; providing for deposit of fines; providing for codification; and declaring an emergency.