

An Act relating to prisons and reformatories; establishing a parole docket for certain offenders; requiring examination of certain information; defining term; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.