

An Act relating to ethics; prohibiting any state officer from recommending persons for employment under certain circumstances; prohibiting state officers from soliciting or accepting contributions or anything of value from certain persons at certain times; providing penalties for violations; providing for codification; and declaring an emergency.