

An Act relating to workers' compensation; exempting certain parties from application of the Workers' Compensation Act; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.