

An Act relating to criminal procedure; defining terms; prohibiting execution of persons with severe developmental disability; establishing certain burdens of proof; establishing procedures to be followed; requiring appropriate jury instructions under certain circumstances; providing for codification; providing an effective date; and declaring an emergency.