

An Act relating to revenue and taxation; allowing credit against income taxes for certain tax years; defining term; specifying amount of credit and expenses for which credit allowed; providing for carryforward of credit under certain circumstances; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.