

An Act relating to public health and safety; making it unlawful for a caregiver to accept anything of value from certain person; defining term; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.