

An Act relating to labor; enacting the Oklahoma Right-to-Work Law; providing short title; declaring public policy; defining term; providing for freedom of choice in employment; prohibiting certain practices pertaining to employment; providing penalties; providing for certain injunctive relief; allowing for certain damages; requiring district attorneys and the Attorney General to investigate complaints and prosecute certain violations; applying provisions prospectively to contracts; providing for codification; and declaring an emergency.