

An Act relating to civil procedure; creating the Structured Settlement Protection Act of 2001; providing short title; defining terms; requiring certain information be provided before agreement is signed; requiring approval before transfer is effective; creating certain rights following a transfer; describing process for approval of transfer; requiring notice of application hearing and describing contents of notice; declaring scope of act; assigning burden of compliance; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.