

An Act relating to elections; allowing incumbents in certain elective offices to file resignation to become effective on some date certain; authorizing the Governor to call a special election to fill the vacancy; providing that person elected take office on specified date and serve remainder of term; providing an effective date; and declaring an emergency.