

An Act relating to state government; requiring state agencies to provide a response when denying certain applications; specifying certain items to be included in the response; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.