

An Act relating to the Corporation Commission; amending 17 O.S. 2001, Section 137, which relates to telephone companies; changing certain telephone companies to certain telecommunications service providers; modifying the criteria by which telephone companies are subject to rate regulation; modifying exemptions from regulation by authorizing companies to modify rates, charges or terms and conditions of service under certain circumstances; modifying type of rates and charges subject to time limit; broadening Corporation Commission authority to investigate and rescind specified rates and charges; clarifying terms; and providing an effective date.