

An Act relating to consumer credit; requiring certain statement on credit card applications and billing statements; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.