

An Act relating to state government; requiring telephones at state agencies be answered by a person during certain hours; designating state agencies; prohibiting use of answering device for certain purpose and providing exception; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.