

An Act relating to marriage and family; requiring certain parties to obtain marriage counseling prior to issuance of a decree for dissolution of a marriage or for a legal separation; providing qualifications of counselor; providing form; providing procedures for submission; prohibiting certain filings; providing for costs; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.