

An Act relating to wireless communications zoning; enacting the Wireless Communication Zoning Act; providing definitions; allowing conditional use permits under certain circumstances; allowing certain towers in residential-zoned areas under certain circumstances; requiring the removal of telecommunication towers under certain condition; requiring a special permit for certain towers; specifying requirements for the placement of telecommunication antennas on certain structures; specifying method of replacing telecommunication antennas on certain structures; authorizing the placement of certain antennas under certain circumstances; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.