

An Act relating to schools; allowing a school district board of education to include the theory of intelligent design in certain instruction; allowing teachers to use supporting evidence; prohibiting teachers from emphasizing denominational, sectarian, or religious beliefs; providing for codification; providing an effective date; and declaring an emergency.