

An Act relating to insurance; allowing for investments by a domestic company in certain equipment, systems or property; limiting amount of investment; providing for codification; and declaring an emergency.