

An Act relating to state government; creating the Paperwork Reduction Act of 2006; directing state agencies to study ways to reduce and simplify data and information collected from certain other entities; authorizing agencies to retain a consultant or expert; specifying scope of study; requiring reports; providing for codification; providing an effective date; and declaring an emergency.