

An Act relating to criminal procedure; establishing bail procedures; stating factors to be considered by court; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.