

An Act relating to insurance; defining certain terms; specifying applicability of definitions; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.