

An Act relating to contracts; defining terms; allowing certain provisions in specified contracts; prohibiting certain actions; allowing stay of certain proceedings under specified circumstances; authorizing certain party to seek certain remedies; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.