

An Act relating to children; requiring certain information to be included on the judgment and sentence of certain persons under certain circumstance; providing for codification; and declaring an emergency.