

An Act relating to civil procedure; requiring reporting of information related to certain claimants; requiring publication of names of certain claimants; providing that disputed claims be interpled into court; providing for the disposition of certain funds; stating applicability of act; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.