

An Act relating to highway advertising; directing the Department of Transportation to conduct certain feasibility study relating to commercial advertising on highway signs; requiring Department to create certain study commission; requiring final report by certain date; requiring study commission to invite public participation and conduct meetings under the provisions of the Oklahoma Open Meeting Act; providing for noncodification; and declaring an emergency.