

An Act relating to poor persons; requiring promulgation of rules authorizing certain workers to carry specified products at certain times; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.