

An Act relating to workers' compensation; exempting certain persons from application of the Workers' Compensation Act; providing exception; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.