

An Act relating to telecommunications; requiring the Corporation Commission to promulgate certain rules relating to cellular telephone calling plans; providing for noncodification; and declaring an emergency.