

Elections; allowing all registered voters eligible to vote for an office to vote in the primary and runoff primary election of a recognized political party in certain circumstances; effective date; emergency.