Summary

Engrossed Senate Bill 1985 makes certain costs of transmission upgrades for wind generation recoverable, provided they are approved by the Southwest Power Pool and are placed into service prior to December 31, 2013.

The proposed committee substitute for ESB 1985 adds some language as it relates to the possible rebuttment of these rate adjustments by evidence presented to the Corporation Commission.

Analysis

The measure is merely allowing for the recovery of certain costs and contains no language that would cause a fiscal impact to the state.
