Bill Summary

Research Analyst: Arnella Karges

The Conference Committee Report for HB2320 accepts Senate Amendment No. 1, which is a substitute for the Engrossed measure modifying the definitions used in the Alarm and Locksmith Industry Act, modifying the definition of “lock” to include electrical devices consisting entirely of Class 2 or Class 3 circuits as established by the National Electrical Code and expanding the definition of “locksmith industry” to include the sale, rekeying or repinning of locks, and clarifying references to the act.

The measure expands the list of activities that licensure required under the act shall not apply to include the sale of lock systems designed for user installation (an exemption for such installation of alarm systems currently exists). The CCR specifies that persons performing work on any electrical circuits other than Class 2 or Class 3 circuits be properly licensed as state law requires. The CCR also clarifies references to the effective date of the original act (November 1, 1985).

The measure establishes term limits for members of the Alarm and Locksmith Industry Committee, to two four-year terms, and providing a ‘grandfather clause’ for current members. The measure also requires appointments to be qualified under the act to serve as members of the Committee. The Alarm and Locksmith Industry Committee duties are expanded to include assisting the State Board of Health in determining educational requirements necessary for licensure.
