Representative Holland raised a point of order as to the accuracy of the fiscal summary published for the Denney amendment.

The Presiding Officer stated that the accuracy of a fiscal summary is not a basis for a point of order, and as such, the point was not well taken.

Representative Inman raised a point of order as to whether the Denney amendment was a floor substitute as prohibited by House Rule 8.7(e) and therefore not in order for consideration.

The Presiding Officer affirmed House Precedent 8.7-3 (2011) which held that determination of the existence of a floor substitute would be based on whether an amendment is styled as a floor substitute and whether the amendment would prevent consideration of additional main floor amendments. As such, the point was not well taken.

Representative Armes Presiding

Upon request of Representative Denney, HB 2762 was laid over.

Representative Inman raised a point of order as to whether it was in order for Representative Denney to withdraw the bill at this point.

CLARIFICATION BY THE CHAIR

The question was raised earlier as to whether HB 2762, which was withdrawn by Representative Denney, had become the property of the House or whether it was still the property of Representative Denney, the author of the measure.

In response to the inquiry, the Chair referenced that the bill itself had not been amended. Upon further reflection, the applicable rule is House Rule 10.4(b) which says that the principal author may withdraw the bill at any time prior to the vote being ordered on final passage of the bill. Whether or not the bill had been amended, Representative Denney had the option under House Rules of withdrawing the bill until the point the final vote was ordered by the Presiding Officer.
