The Speaker addressed the House. Upon unanimous consent request of Representative Hall the remarks of Speaker Shannon were ordered printed in full as follows:

"I suppose I better say thank you now because I don't know how thankful I'll be in a few months. So thank you. With all sincerity thank you.

I've often said if God were to give me four months to live, I would want to spend them right here in this chamber because they are usually the longest four months of my life without a doubt.

My buddies have been calling me and texting me saying, Mr. Speaker. We're not going to call you Mr. Speaker. There's no way I'm going to say Mr. Speaker to you. I told them and I will tell you all. I want to be treated like any other leader of the free world. That's the only request I have.

It is truly a great honor and privilege to have the trust of this esteemed body and I'm more grateful than I could ever express.

Thank you to Judge Lewis who talked me into going to law school where he was special district judge in Comanche County. Representative Coody and Representative Martin, thank you for your kind words in nominating me as speaker. You two are not only fine examples of great legislators, but you are two of the finest examples of decent human beings. It is truly a privilege to count you both as friends. I will do everything I can to be worthy of your confidence, and the confidence of each member of the People's House.

To my friend Minority Leader Scott Inman: You are without a doubt one of the most gifted and talented members in this building. While we disagree on policy, I do not doubt that you and I share one goal for sure. That is a mutual desire to see our kids live in a more prosperous Oklahoma. I would like to say publicly, I count on you as a competitor and friend, not an enemy.

Speaking of 'house', I have a few family members I would like to recognize for a moment. First, my mother and father, Wayne and Joyce Shannon. They will be celebrating 42 years of marriage in a few weeks. And my sister Desiree and her children and grandchild.

I would like to recognize my friend and mentor, Congressman Tom Cole who is here, and Bill Burgess who is the civilian aid to the Secretary of the Army. Also here today are the Wounded Warriors. Those men and women are the reason we are guaranteed the freedoms that we have.

I would also like to thank my wonderful wife Devon and our children, Audrey Grace and T.W. II. They are the real reason I'm able to serve.

Each member here knows this: the member is elected, but the entire family serves.

Sometimes we get caught up in the sacrifices that we as members have to make, and we forget how hard it can be on our families. But Devon, I want you to know that I remember each day how much you do for me. I am thankful and I love you.

As parents, Devon and I care deeply about the next generation and the opportunity they will have in the future. There are a lot of policy issues I care about but it all comes down to one thing. Will our children inherit a more prosperous and civilized Oklahoma or less?

That one single issue drives me more than any other: creating opportunity and prosperity not just for our generation, but for generations to come.

What we know. We have seen that dependence on government leads to poverty, addiction and to human failure. I have seen it and I do not like it. If I am committed to anything in my life, I am on a passionate quest to see people rise up to a new level of prosperity, success and dignity.

Prosperity only will come when individuals rise to the challenge of personal responsibility and hard work, replacing an attitude of entitlement with an attitude of gratitude.

You know, over Christmas, we got the kids some toys, and there was this one that I had to put together. I'm not the best when it comes to working with my hands, and the directions are always so confusing, so what do I do? I just look at the picture on the box.

That picture on the box says more to me than all those pages of instructions, because I can see for myself what it's supposed to look like.

I feel this world is hungry for that picture on the box.

Over the last few years here in Oklahoma, we have been working on becoming that picture on the box, showing the country what conservative policies should look like—and more importantly, showing how those conservative policies create prosperity.

The picture isn't quite complete, but what's taking shape is a state that leads in job growth, has lower taxes, values life, and balances the budget. All of these conservative policies have created opportunity and prosperity for our state.

If you look at Oklahoma, you see that we are one of the top states in terms of job growth, with one of the lowest unemployment rates in the nation. That means more Oklahomans are working, with more jobs added each month. The best social program out there is a high-paying job.

It doesn't stop with job creation though. Many states have plenty of jobs, but then they rob the worker of their prosperity with overwhelming taxes and fees. That cannot be the Oklahoma of the future.

In Oklahoma, we believe in letting hard-working people keep more of what they earn. As a result, we have the 14th lowest overall state and local tax burden in the country.

When it comes to valuing life, we should set an example for the nation as well. A society that does not value human life will fail. Period. Valuing human life cannot end after a child enters the world either. We must expand that definition so that we value life at all stages.

And of course we show our fellow states—and Congress, if they would pay attention—how to properly balance a budget. Mr. President, if you're listening, I'll give you a hint: the key is controlling spending, not raising taxes.

We are committed to putting in place conservative policies that create opportunity and prosperity. That is what the picture on the box looks like.

It's a great start, but our work isn't finished.

Moving forward we need to continue focusing on pro-business reforms that will boost our economy, create jobs, and foster strong families.

The first item on that list is fundamental workers' compensation reform. We must have a system that heals injured workers so they can get back on the job, without punishing the businesses that provide those jobs.

And we need tax reform. We have one of the lowest overall tax burdens in the nation, but why settle for that? We're practically surrounded by states with lower income tax rates, including Texas, which doesn't have an income tax.

That doesn't take into account corporate income taxes or the franchise tax, both of which cost us jobs. It's time for a responsible tax reform package that helps families keep more of their hard-earned money, and also helps businesses create more jobs.

There are many other things this Legislature needs to address as well.

We must continue the work we've started to shore up our pension systems, so we can keep our promises to teachers, law enforcement, state employees and others.

We must control the vast bureaucracy of government by putting a stop to costly regulations that harm small businesses.

And we must take care of the assets that belong to the taxpayers of our state, including our roads, bridges, state buildings and this State Capitol. That includes getting rid of unused assets.

We must modernize our educational system to ensure we are providing a twenty-first century education that prepares our young people to not only compete in the global marketplace, but to win.

There is one other thing I want to talk about that I haven't mentioned yet, and I think this is important because it speaks to the direction our country is heading right now.

Our country was founded on the vision of relatively few powers being delegated to the federal government, with the rest being reserved to the states. But today that's not at all what our country looks like.

Today, we live in a country with an out-of-control federal government that is bankrupt financially and morally. As a result, we have fewer freedoms, we pay more in taxes than we should, and there is little hope of these things changing under our current President and this Congress.

So let me say this: the State of Oklahoma will not be following the lead of Washington, D.C. Not on my watch.

In fact, we will push back at every turn. We will fight every invasive regulation. We will refuse each costly expansion. And we will defend our rights under the Constitution of the United States of America.

I think most people know this by now, but I'm a conservative. I believe in conservative policies that create jobs, protect families, and grow the economy.

But most people don't wake up each day and wonder what a bunch of politicians are doing to be conservative. If anything, they wake up and ask themselves how they can provide a sense of prosperity for their families and a sense of security.

That is the key. We must be able to show how our policies lead to a more prosperous city, state and nation. Because ultimately, while I proudly describe myself as a conservative, Representative Williams, it's not about labels. It's about doing what's right to see the next generation prosper regardless of party philosophy. We can come together and find common ground.

We can make Oklahoma the picture on the box for the rest of the country.

These are lofty goals, but you know in the 15th Chapter of Judges, Samson used a jawbone of an ass to kill 1,000 Philistines. Just a few verses down, out of hunger and thirst, he began to doubt God. The God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob told Samson to go back to the same jawbone and would find what he sought. Like Samson, our people have slain our own giants. The horrors endured during the Trail of Tears, acknowledgement of the Tulsa Race Riots, surviving the Dust Bowl and the Depression, and recovering from the oil bust. And in our lifetimes, Representative McDaniel, looking into the face of evil in the form of the Oklahoma City Bombing.

But we looked our challenges in the face, and we said we shall overcome. We did and we will.

And just like Samson, we must go back to the same tools that made us triumphant in times past. This means reliance upon the Judeo-Christian values and next upon ingenuity, determination, toughness, and hard work of our Oklahoma people who are determined to be responsible for our own future.

You will find that I am bold in expressing my vision and dream. I will not bend from my determination and principles, but I also believe that this House should not be governed by division. Dr. Martin Luther King said, 'We must live together as brothers, or perish together as fools.'

Like the Children of Israel about to cross over into the land of prosperity, we must also acknowledge that there exist some among our ranks who will not cross over. Those who want to re live the fights of the past that have separated us. The old fights of liberal vs. conservative, rural vs. urban, oilman vs. farmer, cowboy vs. Indian, or Sooner vs. Cowboy... well some rivalries must live I guess. But those who refuse to accept the new rules of engagement of Oklahoma politics will probably wander in the wilderness and be left behind. We know there is only one Oklahoma.

So now, I accept the nomination as Speaker of the House for the 54th Legislature, and I am greatly honored to do so.

I look forward to serving with each of you and working together to achieve great things for Oklahoma.

We won't always agree on every issue, but I hope we can all agree on this: we are each made in the image of God. As your Speaker, I pledge to always treat you in this way, with dignity and respect no matter who you are or which party you belong to. In the end, this is the People's House.

Thank you all for your trust and your confidence. I pray that I prove worthy of both.

May God bless each of you and your families, and may God bless Oklahoma and the United States of America."

Speaker Pro Tempore Jackson addressed the House.

Upon unanimous consent request of Representative Denney, the remarks of Speaker Pro Tempore Jackson were ordered printed in full as follows:

“Good afternoon, friends, family, colleagues and guests.

Let me first say thank you to Representative Osborn and Representative Steve Martin for nominating me for Speaker Pro Tempore. I have served with both of these friends for a few years now and know them to be honorable and dedicated public servants and I am humbled by their words. Thank you.

There are some special people to me in the audience today that I would like to recognize. First everyone knows that behind every man is a great woman. Cara has put up with me through many an election, constant phone calls and door-knocking and much more. Honey, I love you and thank you for the support. My two lovely girls, Cadence and Delaney, are the light of my life. I love you girls. Chuck and JoAnne Pritchett are also in the audience. Chuck is my father-in-law and campaign treasurer and JoAnne keeps him in line. Thank you for being here today. I would also like to thank my assistant Cali Tonnu for the seven years of hard work she has given to our office. Thank you Cali. Last but not least, I am grateful to my Lord and savior Jesus Christ who strengthens and humbles me daily.

My political journey started about nine years ago when I first decided to throw my hat into the ring for state representative. That decision didn't come lightly. Many people helped and encouraged me along the way and time will not permit me to name them all but a few have to be mentioned: Cara, Chuck, Mom and Dad, Evan, Wade, Toni, JoAnne, Scott, Former Representative Curt Roggow and Senator Patrick Anderson just to name a few. You have all been helpful and for that I say thanks. But probably the most important reason I decided to run for office wasn't there from Day One. It came a bit later and they are sitting in the gallery now, my two girls: Cadence and Delaney. What keeps me going and motivates me to continue is their future. I look across the floor today and I see moms, dads, brothers, sisters, grandparents and friends. It inspires me and lights a spark every morning to know that we get to make a difference in our communities, our state and our country. That is why I am here. I trust that is also why my colleagues are here as well. And I vow to each of you that I will do all I can, working with you, to make a difference.

‘Let us remember that, as much has been given us, much will be expected from us, and that true homage comes from the heart as well as from the lips, and shows itself in deeds.’

This was said by President Theodore Roosevelt. Truer words have not been spoken and I believe we have a lot to do in 2013 and the years to come. This year has terrific promise and many challenges that we will face. Encouraging job creation and making Oklahoma the most vibrant place to do business should be a priority to all of us. We must also reform the workers' compensation system and make sure that regulations, at least from Oklahoma, don't keep our businesses from thriving. Reforming our tax structure and lowering our tax burden should also be a priority moving forward.

I believe that it is the Legislature's duty to hold agencies accountable for the rules that they pass. We have to strengthen our efforts on ensuring that regulations that are passed by our state agencies are fair and balanced, and have been properly vetted to ensure safety of our citizens without creating an undue burden or cost on those providing a good or service. That reminds me of a funny comment by Will Rogers: 'Be thankful we're not getting all the government we're paying for.' Not all rules and regulations are necessary and we have to be willing to put in the time to make sure we are doing what is right.

Beginning in the 2005 session, this Legislature began making sorely needed investments in infrastructure, roads and bridges. That has to continue to be one of our top priorities in 2013 and beyond. Maintaining the Capitol complex, improving roads and bridges across our state and developing a long-term strategy for all of our state assets should be our goal.

Education has long been a priority of this body and it must continue to be. Our children truly are our future and without a high-quality education system in Oklahoma we will be lost in a global economy. Encouraging teachers to continue their education and training and ensuring students have a classroom environment to learn and learn well should be accomplished. Making sure we invest where we need to and demand accountability where it is needed in our schools is a must moving forward and is essential for the future growth of our state. Common Ed, CareerTech and Higher Ed must do more to coordinate their efforts to train our students. And we, the elected members of this House, have to be ready to support them where we can but also demand outcomes that will benefit all Oklahomans.

We must continue to promote smart and efficient policies that help our energy sector thrive. One-third of our state's economy is tied to the oil and gas industry. Developing an environment that encourages exploration and the hiring of our college grads is essential to our growth as a state. We also need to support those companies in electric generation because they are under fire in our country. Increased regulations from the federal government have been a burden on their industry and this affects our constituents. We should work with the Corporation Commission and others to ensure that Oklahoma continues to have low-cost affordable energy. As FERC and the Department of Energy crack down on all of those businesses, we should send a message loud and clear, Oklahoma is the place for you to do business.

Let us also remember the importance of Aerospace and Technology, an ever-growing industry and major part of our state's economy. We must work with local manufacturers and all our military installations to ensure that work and those jobs are created and stay in Oklahoma. It is essential to our future growth. Programs like CASQ, which have a proven track record, should be supported and expanded to grow our economy.

Many of the issues that I have mentioned today are issues on which most of us agree. But, there will surely be divisive issues on this floor in the near future. Tempers may flare and voices may rise, but I vow to do my very best in keeping us moving forward. I will try to do it in a manner that is fair to all the members and respectful of your time and opinions.

As you can see, we have a lot to accomplish this year and in the years to come. If we work together we can achieve great things not just for a few, but for all Oklahomans. I am honored and privileged to serve you as Speaker Pro Tempore. Speaker Pro Tempore is defined in the dictionary as Speaker temporarily, for the time being or temporary speaker and I'm very aware of that definition. I could not be more proud than to be in a supporting role to Speaker T. W. Shannon. Thank you members for placing your trust in me and giving me this opportunity. I will work hard every day to be worthy of this great trust.

'No man needs sympathy because he has to work. Far and away the best prize that life offers is the chance to work hard at work worth doing.' Another quote from President Theodore Roosevelt.

Today as we go our separate ways and chase our passions remember that if everyone pitches in and lends a helping hand we can make this great state better for ourselves and our future.

God Bless. ”

HOUSE CHAPLAIN

Representative Cockroft moved that when the House reconvenes on Monday, February 4, 2013, a Chaplain be selected to serve as House Chaplain by rotation on a week-to-week basis, which motion was declared adopted.

OFFICE SUPPLIES AND POSTAGE

Representative Peterson moved that each House Member be given a credit in the House post office in the amount of $500.00 per month to be used for official communications and that each House Member be given a credit in the House for stationery and/or office supplies in the amount of $350.00, the same to be reimbursed by the House upon presentation of receipts to the Comptroller of the House and that the Speaker be authorized to purchase from time to time necessary postage, supplies and equipment to conduct the affairs of the House during the First Regular Session of the Fifty-fourth Legislature, to which objection was heard.

Representative Reynolds raised a point of inquiry as to whether, pursuant to the Oklahoma Constitution, the Peterson motion was appropriate for consideration by the House.

The Presiding Officer stated that pursuant to House precedent the presiding officer would not make a constitutional pronouncement and ruled the point not well taken.

Representative Reynolds appealed the ruling of the Presiding Officer receiving the required 15 seconds.

"The question is, shall the decision of the Presiding Officer be the decision of the House? All those in favor signify by voting 'Aye'; those opposed 'Nay'. The vote is now in progress."

The decision of the Presiding Officer was upheld upon roll call as follows:

Aye: Armes, Banz, Biggs, Billy, Blackwell, Brumbaugh, Cannaday, Casey, Christian, Cleveland, Cockroft, Condit, Coody, Cooksey, Cox, Denney, DeWitt, Echols, Enns, Grau, Hall, Hardin, Henke, Hulbert, Jackson, Johnson, Jordan, Joyner, Kern, Kirby, Martin (Scott), Martin (Steve), McBride, McCall, McCullough, McDaniel (Jeannie), McDaniel (Randy), McNiel, Moore, Mulready, Murphey, Nelson, Newell, Nollan, O'Donnell, Ortega, Osborn, Ownbey, Peterson, Pruett, Quinn, Roberts (Dustin), Roberts (Sean), Rousselot, Russ, Sanders, Schwartz, Sears, Shoemake, Smalley, Stiles, Thomsen, Trebilcock, Turner, Vaughan, Walker, Watson, Wesselhoft, Wood, Wright, Mr. Speaker.—71.
