Research Analysis

The committee substitute for HB 2998 requires that all court records, defined as such by statute, be subject to the provisions of the Oklahoma Open Records Act. Records identified as confidential are not subject to this measure. Those records that are considered to have a privacy interest that outweighs the public's interest in the record can be sealed by the court. The measure requires the court to make certain records when a document is sealed. The measure requires the court to immediately make rules that regulate the display of court records online.
