Research Analysis

SB1791 clarifies that nothing in Section 620.6 of Title 10, referring to confidentiality of juveniles' records, is to be construed from prohibiting the Department of Human Services from providing records to the Office of Juvenile Affairs for any individual who has applied for foster care.

The measure also directs that any member of a city-county Health Department Fetal Infant Mortality Review (FIMR) have access to juvenile court and DHS records without a court order, as long as the records directly related to the investigation.
