Research Analysis

SB1870 allows a professional employer organization (PEO) to pool the experience history of all clients represented by the POE or file separate reports for each individual client represented by the POE. If a POE decides to pay contributions for each client separately, they must assist the Oklahoma Employment Security Commission in the process of separating and identifying the contribution history, benefit experience history and payroll of each of its clients which will enable OESC to determine the contribution rate of each client account separately. The POE may only change its election once and the request must be made in writing.
