

An Act relating to insurance; prohibiting health benefit plan from holding certain therapy to a higher standard of clinical evidence for benefit coverage decisions than other therapies; providing for certain construction; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.