

An Act relating to weights and measures; establishing standards for measuring equivalence of dispensed compressed natural gas and liquefied natural gas; assigning duties to the Department of Labor; requiring rulemaking; adopting units of measurement; establishing initial standards; requiring certain considerations during rulemaking; requiring certain presumption; providing for codification; and providing an effective date.